ACTIVITIES

We reserve the right to modify the activity programme.

All programmes provided are provisional and are subject to change; in some cases this is necessary due to weather conditions, availability and unavoidable operational constrictions. Furthermore, if, in the opinion of AFS, conditions are hazardous due to adverse weather, activities may be curtailed or cancelled.

Students who enrol in activity programmes must be willing and engaged in activities, AFS cannot provide staffing for children who refuse to take part in the activities on the day. Whilst AFS accepts that new experiences may be different and can be intimidating for children, in the case that a child is not willing to participate in activities, AFS reserves the right to restrict their participation in the activity programme for the remainder of the stay.

AFS reserves the right to refuse children aged 5 for activity courses. AFS has no obligation to change this age limit, regardless of individual circumstances.

Parents must ensure that children are collected after activities, from the AFS Summer Camp premises, with the exception of parents who have given written consent for their child to make their own way home. Without signed consent, your child will not be allowed to leave the premises and you will have to come and collect them.

AFS are not held accountable for delays at the hands of activity providers. We apologise in advance if delays occur surrounding the pick up of children.

LESSONS

Parents are expected to ensure their child/children arrive at camp on time and any private lessons promptly. Lateness presents a safety risk and also inhibits a child's full enjoyment of camp, whilst disrupting the classroom learning environment.

Throughout lesson times, children are expected to follow the AFS Summer Camp Code of Conduct. This includes ensuring respect towards teachers, staff and their fellow classmates. Any behaviour that is not deemed appropriate during lesson times will be dealt with according to AFS protocol. AFS reserves the right to remove a student from a classroom or camp entirely.

AFS organises educational morning outings throughout the week for children. Whilst AFS understands this can be a source of excitement for children, AFS reminds parents and children that the Health and Safety policy needs to be followed at all times. During outings, the purchase of items listed as forbidden in the Code of Conduct is prohibited. This includes the purchase of pyrotechnics and knives.

• MODIFICATION OF PROGRAMMES

Alpine French School reserves the right to modify courses and activities subject to outside circumstances, cancellations, weather etc.

Alpine French School reserves the right to modify any programme or programmes listed in our brochure because of an insufficient number of participants or for any other reason beyond its control.

In the rare event that AFS is forced to cancel a programme, AFS will provide full refund of any monies paid, unless an alternative camp programme can be provided, however different from the original planned programme.

If AFS or its activity providers deem that your child is unable to take part in the booked activities, we reserve the right to change activity group and offer a refund of price difference. This is completely at AFS and the activity providers' discretion.
